

CEMA invites Donations from music connoisseurs with the Donor's name suitably displayed at CEMA, in the brochure, on the Gallery, on the website, accompanied by One year of individual/family membership, invitation to special events organized by CEMA. Donor is entitled for donor's portrait display in the Gallery of music, arts and culture. CEMA Laboratory, Virtual Learning centers, Lecture halls, Auditorium will be named after the donors.

If you would like to contribute, just give us a call on the telephone number below.
CEMA: +91 8792 449294

CEMA will be proud to acknowledge the generosity of the individuals, corporations and organizations.

Mode of payment

Members/Contributors/Sponsors/Donors may download the CEMA Contributor/Donor form and post duly filled form to the following address. Receipts will be mailed within a week of receipt of your cheque. Contributions to be made in the name of 'Center for Excellence in Music and Applications'

All donations to the CEMA are tax exempted under Section 80G of the Income tax Act.

Director Center for Excellence in Music and Applications

4203, Anriya Dwellington, I Cross,
Dollars colony, R M V II stage
Bangalore-560094, INDIA
Ph: +91 8792 449294

Alternatively you may deposit your Cheques (of any bank) at any Canara Bank branch in India or pay online or transfer funds through Net Banking favouring

Name: Center for Excellence
in Music and Applications
Account Number: 2638101009106
Branch: Canara Bank
Malleshwaram 15th cross, Bangalore
IFSC Code: CNRB0002638

The Center for Excellence
in Music and Applications,
Bangalore

(A Unit of IARSc)

The Center for Excellence in Music and Applications (CEMA) aims to conduct world class research to understand the Science of Music and provides a platform to musicians, artists and scientists across the globe for a cross interaction on a variety of country specific subjects and themes and for collaborative research. CEMA encourages every form of music, Indian to Western, Classical to Folklore, Traditional to Contemporary, and facilitates high quality multi-disciplinary research, incorporating current technological and scientific advances. CEMA aims to connect the boundaries of the two sciences, namely, the boundaries of physical and physiological acoustics on the one side and of music science and aesthetics on the other.

CEMA aims to

- Nurture, educate, inspire musicians and music connoisseurs
- Provide opportunity to listen to, learn about and play music
- Pursue high-level research in music and for therapeutic and other scientific applications of music
- Conduct certificate courses, lectures/seminars/workshops, outreach programmes/exhibitions, music concerts, nationally and internationally, that brings together a range of experts from different disciplines
- Identify and nurture child prodigies/young talents in the field of music, and fine arts
- Award Certificates of excellence, Diplomas, Postgraduate Degrees in Music, Science and Fine arts
- Create Laboratory of instruments, Library and Virtual Centers of Learning, Galleries of Art and Music culture
- Conduct its activities independently and in association with institutes or schools of music and fine arts

Activities of CEMA

CEMA provides an opportunity to:

- Enroll for certificate courses in music and inter-disciplinary fields
- Take part in “search for young talent” programmes, including the competitions conducted by All India Radio
- Undertake music lessons for children of varying age groups
- Train the music connoisseurs and enable them to present professional concerts and audio recording their works
- Participate in outreach programmes, cultural events, music concerts and music festivals organized by CEMA
- To learn music theory and to carry out research
- To understand, develop and promote the interdisciplinary research between music and science
- Prepare motivated students for Junior/Senior/Vidwat Grade Exams of KSEEB

CEMA is governed by,

Dr. Kusuma G Rao, Director, CEMA

Dr. Vid. Amrutha Narain, Distinguished Research Faculty, CEMA

CEMA Advisory includes the eminent musicians,

Prof. Vid. R N Sreelatha, Principal (Rtd.), University college of Mysore, Mysore.

Vid. M L Bharati, Guest faculty, Bharatiya Vidya Bhavan, Mysore.

Shri R Anand, Formerly at Kirloskar, Bangalore is Hon. Chief Patron of CEMA and Shri H Govindaraja Rao is Joint Director, Business Development, CEMA.

CEMA has Budding talent, Veena Kamath, and Child Prodigy, Aadya Sosale.

CEMA invites national and international membership, contributions, sponsorship and donations from individuals, artists, corporations and organizations/institutions. We respect your contribution made towards accomplishing the dreams of music learners and lovers. We are grateful and appreciate your desire to become part of our institution.

Membership provides an opportunity to associate and participate in most of the cultural events and literary activities of CEMA. Member’s name will be displayed in the brochure of the CEMA. Family membership facility is also available. Membership is transferable within three years of time.

Membership Fee: Rs 1,000 for one year for students and Young fellows

Rs 5,000 for one year for an adult (25 Plus)

Rs 25,000 for Life membership

Contributions can be musical instruments to the Laboratory of instruments and to recording studio, books and CD/DVDs to the library and to virtual centers of learning, paintings and craft items to galleries of art and music culture, towards translation of valuable books and teaching aids to research Labs and lecture rooms.

Sponsorship can be towards the Fellowship of Masters/Ph.D students, merit scholarship to students, institution of awards, for conducting cultural events/fests, certificate courses, workshops, outreach and exposure programmes, music concerts, exhibitions, nationally and internationally.